If you're smart enough to be reading this, then you probably already know that this is special. This is the very first live recording by the criminally under-looked, ground-pounding, hemi-hoggin' Supersuckers and it's here on this DVD! As one of the most overwhelmingly amazing talent pools in rock history, The Supersuckers have carved a solid niche for themselves in the world of rock through their relentless touring schedule and unstoppable live shows. Finally, their hell raising, barn burning, playfully evil rock-n-roll extolling the virtues of liquor, women, drugs and killing, has been captured for your home viewing convenience. This DVD features the greatest rock-n-roll band in the world, kicking ass on stage in Anaheim, showing their country side in San Diego and has a few surprises in it as well.

So call the neighbors and warn them about the noise, the SUPERSUCKERS are gonna rock your house!
